I teach them in details to make them aware about the internet World. I also made them become a freelance artist from the start by giving them my product and services that they can use for both work and to be with their family. Our Clients In my experience as a business owner, I have learned that it is essential to have a project management system and a team of people dedicated to managing the project. A project management team does not need to be a group of people dedicated only to managing projects. In fact, most projects do not need to be managed by a team of experts. In many cases, a small group of dedicated people can adequately handle a project. However, if you are looking for someone with a specific skill or expertise, such as an accountant or an attorney, you should hire a separate team. Preventing a project from going over time and over budget will also help you reduce the chances of project failure. Having a project management team will help you stay on track and provide regular updates so that you can monitor progress. A project manager can provide regular progress reports and updates to help you stay on schedule. A Project Manager should be a leader and a mentor and may not be a subject matter expert in the project. The Project Manager must be a good communicator and know how to get the best from the team. A project manager can take on the role of project coach, project advisor or team leader. A Project Manager is accountable for the entire project. Therefore, the Project Manager should have all the information on a project that may be useful during a crisis situation. A Project Manager should make it a practice to always have a current file cabinet of the project in his or her office. A project manager will constantly evaluate a project to determine whether it is on schedule and on budget. However, many times the project is also evaluated by the other team members and should
